- Cadre Ratio (Professor: Associate Professor: Assistant Professor) is to be followed.
- A Ratio specified by regulatory bodies is to be followed for (Student: Teacher) in every Department.
- Core Specializations are considered to understand the present and the future need of the Department. This in turn helps the team to identify and fill in the suitable gaps.

2. Develop the Position Description

- Clearly articulate the required Qualifications and Responsibilities.
- Understand and able to express the Value Proposition for the Role.
- Identifies Tasks, Work Flow and Accountability, enabling the Department to plan how it will operate and Grow.

5. Short listing the Prospective Candidates

The received Applications are organized and the relevant information is summarized at the Human Resources Department.

The objective of Short Listing is for two reasons:

- To reject Applications that do not meet the Eligibility Criteria
- To shortlist the Candidates from the remaining list so that the number of Candidates to be called for the subsequent interview process remains within manageable limits.

The HR Department shortlists the Applications with their Comments and Observations based on the requirement Criteria and Eligibility. The list is further checked and approved by the Head of the Institution to forward the shortlisted Applications to the next level of the Recruitment Process.
